Information Guide

Application: The couple must apply together. Appointments are not necessary.

Age: Any person who has attained the age of 18 may marry if otherwise competent. If a person is between the ages of 16 and 18, the license will be issued only with the written consent of parents, guardian or custodian. If the parents are divorced, proof must be provided showing legal guardianship. If one parent is deceased, a certified death certificate is needed.

Residency: Application must be made in the county in which one of the parties has lived for at least 30 days. If both parties are residents of other states, application must be made in the county where the ceremony is to be held. If neither person has been a resident of any county for 30 days prior to applying, application must also be made in the county where the ceremony is to be held.

Divorced persons: A person who is divorced is prohibited from marrying until six months after the date the divorce was granted.

Wis. Stat. §765.03(2): It is unlawful for any person who is or has been a party of an action for divorce in any court in this state or elsewhere to marry again until six months after judgment of divorce is granted, and the marriage of any such person solemnized before the expiration of six months from the date of the granting of judgment of divorce shall be void.

Waiting period: A six-day waiting period is required by law. A waiver may be obtained by nonresidents of Wisconsin for an additional fee. The license is valid for 30 days after the date of issuance and the marriage must be performed within that period.

Foreign languages: If either party does not speak or understand English, a third party interpreter must be present at the time of application. If documents are in another language, there must be a certified translation or an uninterested party must be present to translate.

Relationship: Persons closer in relationship than second cousin may not marry, except when the female has attained the age of 55 years.
